

Thematic Session 1: Making Post-Disaster Recovery Efficient and Effective: Elements of Good Recovery for Articulation in Post-2015 Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction

Wednesday, 10 September 2014, 16:00 ~17:30

In this session, panelists will share recovery initiatives, which have been tried and tested. The sharing is expected to highlight the important principles that made the recovery initiative 'successful' in further reducing risk or achieving development agenda.

Thematic Session 9: 10 Years after the Indian Ocean Tsunami A Retrospective

Thursday, 11 September 2014, 16:00 ~17:30

In this session, the panelists will review and reflect upon the experiences and lessons of 2004 Tsunami recovery as reflected in the socio-economic conditions of communities, and progress achieved in relation to policies and institutions for recovery. The panelists will discuss different models of recovery programme, and how they have influenced the evolution of recovery as an area of public policy and government intervention.

Thematic Session 16: Role of Private Sector in Recovery The case for private sector engagement in recovery for Post-2015 Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction

Friday, 12 September 2014, 11:00 ~12:30

This session explores knowledge gaps and barriers in public-private collaboration for recovery. It looks into concerns like how to initiate, how to implement, and how to sustain private sector engagement in DRR and recovery. It also looks into the DRR and recovery investments/initiatives of the private sector. It is expected to outline the essentials for converging public and private initiatives in recovery and provide further inputs on recovery component of Post-2015 Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction.

In collaboration with:

Government of Japan (Cabinet Office), Global Facility for Disaster Risk Reduction/the World Bank, United Nations Office for Disaster Risk Reduction (UNISDR), United Nations Development Programme (UNDP)

Contact: IRP Secretariat, Ms. Ana Cristina Thorlund at: thorlund@recoveryplatform.org